Commercial Equipment Leasing

Scott Anderson is a career financial professional specializing in corporate finance. Scott is currently a principal and Managing Member of LeaseCo, a commercial equipment lessor located in Burlington, Vermont.

Before starting LeaseCo Scott was CEO of Northeast Cuso, a loan servicer owned by five FDIC-insured financial institutions. Scott raised $2.65MM of capital to launch Northeast in 2004, building it into a profitable business within three years. Northeast was successfully integrated into its owner financial institutions in 2013.

Before starting Northeast, Scott enjoyed two years as a consultant to five community banks and credit unions in Southern California. Scott was previously a career commercial banker, starting at Chase where he worked in loan workout, business banking, and project finance. He subsequently worked in leveraged finance at Citibank before joining Banknorth, a regional multi-bank holding company where he started and ran asset-based finance. While at Banknorth, Scott served as a corporate sales trainer and as a credit committee member of a Banknorth bank. Scott lives and works in Burlington, Vermont.
